

carciofino
web development network

77 East Road
London
N1 6AH

0845 838 1920
joel@carciofino.com
www.carciofino.com

Friday, 13 August 2010

Testimonial for Titan

I have been a client of Titan for almost 9 years. Running a web development agency I need high quality, reliable suppliers supporting my business.

I see my supplier network as partners in my company and I need people who will give the same level of customer care as my clients have come to expect from us.

With Titan I have such a partner. They have grown along with us and although their staff levels have increased considerably, the level of support and sense that all the staff members value me and my ongoing business has remained.

To anybody considering whether to take out a contract with Titan and weighing them up against competitors I would say definitely go with Titan. You will have no regrets whatsoever and will be safe in the knowledge that however your hosting requirements change over the lifespan of your business you will have helpful and efficient support only a phone call or email away.

Joel Kriteaman, Carciofino