

GigJunkie
4th Floor
95 Southwark Street
London SE1 1HB

Wednesday 1st September 2010

GigJunkie & Titan Internet

GigJunkie.net is a global concert listings aggregator and social network for live music fans. When procuring our infrastructure solution Titan Internet came very highly recommended by another start-up company (skyscanner) and when they proved to be very competitive on cost Titan was an easy choice.

Titan provides and supports our complete technology stack, our VPN for development and testing and our web/database/storage servers for www.gigjunkie.net. These servers also support services to our partners such as Bebo, we7 and Universal Music. Every aspect of working with Titan has been excellent. Speed of implementation, quality of service, level of support and reliability have always met and often exceeded our expectations. The Team at Titan are easy to deal with, offer great advice and are pro active in helping us improve and develop our setup.

From both business and technical viewpoints we cannot recommend Titan Internet highly enough and look forward to working with them in future.

Marc Bridgen, CEO.